Solons Oppose Long Extension Of A-Test Ban

President To Face Strong Pressure for Nuclear Experiments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Evidence mounted today that so far as congressional leaders are concerned President Kennedy has only a limited time in which to try to conclude an agreement with the Soviet Union barring test explosions of nuclear weapons.

The President obviously will be under very heavy pressure to resume testing of new U. S. atomic weapons later this year unless the Soviets make substantial concessions in their proposals for a test ban treaty.

Some further expressions of the administration attitude toward a new round of negotiations, starting at Geneva in two weeks, may come from Kennedy today at his weekly news conference.

The President and his top disarmament advisers conferred Tuesday at a luncheon meeting with a dozen senators and House members who are active in the disarmament field. Disarmament adviser John J. McCloy, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were among those who participated in the conference.

Afterward, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N. M., a member of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee, said a majority of the committee was opposed to an indefinite extension of the moratorium on atomic weapons testing.

The moratorium has been in effect for 2½ years, beginning at the same time as U. S.-British-Soviet negotiations at Geneva on a permanent agreement enforced by an international inspection system to guard against sneak tests.

Members of the committee are reported to have emphasized to the President and other officials that they feel the United States is taking grave risks by not testing weapons in the absence of an inspection system.

The Soviets also, like the British, have had a moratorium policy since the Geneva negotiations got under way. But many congressional leaders as well as officials in the Defense Department and Atomic Energy Commission fear that the Soviets may have been testing some devices in spite of their public pronouncements to the contrary.

Can Governor Oust Judge in Vice Probe?

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Can Gov. Bert Combs oust Campbell County Judge A. J. Jolly from office?

The governor is considering the question today after receiving briefs from attorneys arguing both sides.

Attorneys Joseph Leary of Frankfort, who says Jolly can't be ousted, and Jesse K. Lewis of Lexington, who says he can submit their briefs Tuesday.

Leary represents Jolly. Lewis represents the Newport Ministerial Association which has asked the ouster of Jolly and seven other Campbell County officials on grounds they failed to suppress vice in northern Kentucky.

Leary argues that Jolly is a judicial officer—not a peace officer—and, as a constitutional officer, can be ousted only by constitutional methods.

Not so, says Lewis, whose brief reads in part:

"...The same section of the Kentucky Constitution which provides for the establishment of a county court to consist of a judge mandatorily makes such judge a conservator of the peace, and all authorities are agreed that peace officer and conservator of the peace... mean one and the same thing."

At Newport, Commonwealth's Atty. William J. Wise said he is using the "conservator of the peace" argument in his defense of Circuit Judge Ray L. Murphy, another target of the ouster proceedings. Wise is representing Murphy, he said.

Ohio Road Fund Showdown Looms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A House showdown is due today on a Republican plan to siphon $15 million a year in highway funds into the coffers of local governments to help with their road costs. Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle opposes it.

The shift of funds was promised in the 1960 Republican state platform. The bill is sponsored by Rep. Gail Porterfield, R-Knox.

Despite the governor's repeated expressions of opposition because, he says, the state needs the money to help match federal contributions for highway construction, House Democrats haven't determined their stand on the issue. They plan a caucus before the bill comes to a vote.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, Logan County Republican, insists the state can afford the financial help to hard-pressed local governments and still have plenty of matching money left.

The embattled bill to extend jobless benefits on the state level, meanwhile, has hit another snag. The House has voted unanimously not to accept Senate amendments to the GOP-sponsored measure. That throws the non-emergency bill into a conference committee of the two houses which will try to resolve the differences.

An emergency federal extender bill, meanwhile, is moving a pace through Congress with expectations it will be in effect by April 1.

Sponsors of the state bill told the House further changes are needed in the riddled measure because both houses knocked out the emergency clause.

In the light of expected federal action, the state bill would be effective only in a future unemployment crisis. Its "trigger" clause would extend state benefits automatically any time unemployment exceeds 6 per cent for three straight months.

But, since the measure also includes a number of other provisions which organized labor and Democratic lawmakers term "crippling," all the GOP efforts appear futile. DiSalle has hinted broadly at a prompt veto which Republicans in the legislature will (Continued on Page 12)

Scioto Begins To Recede

The water level of Scioto River reached its crest yesterday afternoon at approximately 15.60 feet.

An early reading yesterday showed a 15.55 reading and at 5 p. m. the level had fallen to 15.42. Noon reading today showed a 14.42 foot level.

All roads and highways in the county are open. Canal Road, west of Circleville, was closed Monday night and Tuesday due to high waters but is now open.

The bottom lands bordering the Scioto are still flooded, but no danger of higher water levels is anticipated by local weather authorities.

Chamber of Commerce OKs Company To Lure Industry

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors yesterday approved formation of an industrial development corporation.

T. D. Harman, chairman of the Chamber of Industrial Development Committee, asked for approximately $300 to be spent in the legal work necessary to form the corporation.

He told the board that formation of the corporation will give the Chamber a "vehicle" by which it can assist companies when and if they need help in locating at Circleville.

Harman said that there is no "hot" prospect at the moment, but that the corporation would be ready to operate at once when it is formed. The board OK'd the proposal to form and incorporate a Chamber-owned development corporation.

Donald Colegrove, commercial manager here for General Telephone Co., explained his company's new billing system to the board.

In other action the board went on record as favoring a north-bound deceleration lane on Route 23 at the DuPont plant, provided the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee recommends such a lane.

A special meeting of the board was set for 7:30 p. m. next Tuesday to consider the question of hiring an executive secretary.

Liquor Said Tool Of Envoy's Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — In tacit agreement that bourbon, scotch and martinis are "tools of the trade" to a diplomat, the House has voted $22,000 for entertainment funds for 17 new U. S. diplomatic missions in Africa.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, had tried to knock that amount from an omnibus appropriation bill, asserting "entertainment" was a misnomer. "No matter how thin you slice it," he told the House, "it's still for more liquor."

Defending the appropriation, Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., assured the House the money, going to missions opened since last year, would not lead to "any alcoholic splurge on the continent of Africa."

Pilot Believes X15 Can Hit 4000 Mph.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—"I feel certain the X15 will achieve its design mission."

That was Air Force Maj. Bob White's casual way of predicting the record-setting rocket ship eventually will fly 50 to 100 miles high at speeds up to 4,000 miles per hour.

His fringe-of-space prediction came after the handsome, dark-haired pilot's test flight of the X15's powerful new engine Tuesday.

The engine, open only two-thirds of full throttle, hurtled White across the desert sky at 2,905 miles an hour—a record for manned flight. Officials said instrument checks revised the figure upward from 2,650 m.p.h.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whenever a big labor strike discommodates a lot of people there is an accompanying cry: "There oughta be a law."

This was true in the record 1959 steel strike.

The recent airlines strike is the latest example. Grounded citizens mounted a growing swell of complaint over inconvenience and hardship.

"Can't the government do something?" is the plaint. "If it can't, there oughta be a law."

The simple fact of the matter

TO SEE DAUGHTER — Mrs. Francis Taylor, mother of stricken actress Elizabeth Taylor, arrives at London Clinic to visit her daughter.

Liz Taylor Said Vastly Improved

LONDON (AP)—Film star Elizabeth Taylor, fighting for her life against double pneumonia, is "vastly improved" tonight.

Dr. Victor Ratner, one of seven doctors attending the 29-year-old actress, passed this word to newsmen as he left London Clinic for a rest at his home.

Eddie Fisher, singer husband of the lovely brunette actress, left the hospital smiling and cheerful. He told reporters:

"She is doing very well. I have spoken to her just now." Asked whether Miss Taylor knew how ill she had been Fisher replied that, "She has a pretty good idea."

Doctors said that for the first time since the 29-year-old movie star was stricken four days ago she was "sufficiently conscious to be able to assist in her own treatment."

A medical bulletin this morning from the bedside said her "condition is greatly improved and gives less cause for anxiety." The beautiful actress made an amazing comeback during the night from the brink of death.

Just before midnight the doctors reported her condition improved but said it "still gives rise to considerable anxiety."

A hospital spokesman explained this morning that Miss Taylor was now able to move herself under her doctor's instructions—to empty her lungs of the liquefying pneumonia—and was completely aware of what was going on around her.

Ashville Store Is Entered Second Time

Dick's Hardware at Ashville was scene of another burglary last night.

Sheriff Walton W. Spangler said seven guns were reported missing from the store. Several guns were taken in a similar burglary at the store January 16. The firm is owned by Richard Bozman.

Sheriff Spangler said the guns were removed by breaking a front window. The same method was used in the first burglary.

Agent Thomas Wagner of the London Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation was called to the scene today.

WAGNER, Sheriff Spangler and Deputy William Pontious continued the investigation today. According to the sheriff, the loot included three 16-gauge shotguns, three 12 gauges and one over-and-under weapon.

Sheriff Spangler said it was possible the window was broken while a train was passing through the village. He said the noise would probably muffle the sound of breaking glass.

City Council Ponders Laws On Annexation, Sewer Line

Two pieces of major legislation were before City Council last night. One would annex a tract of land along Walnut Creek Pike. The other would create Sewer District No. 2.

Both were read for the first time. The annexation ordinance has had the approval of the County Commissioners and all public hearings have been held.

Boyd Horn, 4th Ward Councilman, obstructed passage of the sewer district ordinance. Five of the six councilmen present wished to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance, since much legal work lies ahead and construction of the Nicholas Drive School is near.

However, Horn refused to vote for suspension of the rules. Since Councilman Dudley Carpenter was absent and six votes are needed for suspension, Horn's refusal kept the ordinance from passage. The ordinance will come up for Council action again March 21.

Sewer District No. 2 will provide sanitary sewer facilities for about 400 acres of property inside the city limits. It extends from the Ridgewood Addn. on the north to Lancaster Pike - Watt St. corner on the south and includes all area within the city limits.

IT IS estimated that the project will cost about $140,000 to $150,000. Between $90,000 and $100,000 would be paid for by special assessments against the benefited property owners and the balance would be paid by the city. Preliminary plans call for construction of a large trunk sewer.

Whatever is scrapped, the assembly faces a new wrangle over the Congo crisis and Soviet demands for full dress debate on disarmament.

Nor was there any indication the Soviets intend to drop their proposal to set up a three-man executive to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Before the assembly reopened Tuesday, both the Soviet Union and the United States called on the 99-nation assembly to avoid cold war issues.

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson suggested that all items be dropped except those essential to the conduct of U. N. business.

An Iron Curtain delegate said the United States had approached the Soviet Union on the possibility of sidetracking and assembly discussion of disarmament until the next assembly, beginning six months hence, and using the interim for private negotiations.

This delegate added, however, that the Soviets are determined to hold debate during the current session on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal for total disarmament.

The assembly reopened Tuesday with an appeal by Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah for the United Nations to restore order in the Congo and keep it out of the cold war by stationing a mostly African U. N. command there.

Since the new Nicholas Drive School will use the proposed sewer line, some speed is necessary so that the sewer will be ready when the school is, in the fall of 1962.

The ordinance accepting the Walnut Creek Pike area is the last step in a long procedure leading to annexation. Area included is along the west side of Walnut Creek Pike and east side of old Route 23, north of the intersection of the two roads.

Tax valuation of the area is estimated at $300,000. The residents expect to ask for a sanitary sewer in the near future, but they will pay for it. City water is expected as soon as the water improvement program is completed.

$2.3 Billion Plan Detailed

Ribicoff Cautions Against Any Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff today urged Congress to move fast on President Kennedy's program for public school aid.

"We cannot afford, in my judgment, to permit any of our children to go even one year longer than necessary without adequate instructional staff and classroom facilities," Ribicoff said in a statement delivered at the opening session of hearings by a Senate subcommittee.

The administration proposes to provide about $2.3 billion for public elementary and secondary schools over a three-year period. States could use the money for construction of classrooms, teacher salaries or both, and for special projects aimed at solving area educational problems.

The bill also would provide for continued aid in operation and construction in school districts affected by federal activities, but at a reduced level.

Ribicoff opened his lengthy statement with a review of the federal government's role in the support of education, starting four years before adoption of the Constitution with the reservation of a lot in every township for the maintenance of public schools.

"The federal role has been a legitimate and accepted part of the American educational experience since the founding of the Republic," Ribicoff said.

"These programs of federal assistance to education have, in my judgment, been administered without evidencing one shred of federal control."

He told the subcommittee that in his six years as governor of Connecticut "not once has the federal government exercised control directly or indirectly over education in my state."

In the past decade, Ribicoff said, enrollments in public elementary and secondary schools increased from 25.7 million to 37.6 million, or 46 per cent. Annual expenditures increased during the same period from $6.5 billion to $16.5 billion, or 154 per cent.

"The next decade holds no promise of lessened impact upon our resources available for support of education," Ribicoff said.

"Enrollments in public elementary and secondary schools will increase from 36 million in 1959-60 to 44 million in 1968-69 and will require an additional 437,000 instructional personnel and 600,000 new classrooms by the end of the 10-year period, he said.

Ribicoff said the need of federal aid is evident in statistics showing that while federal taxes have increased 85 per cent in the postwar years, state and local communities have had to increase their tax revenues by 221 per cent. He added that from 1946 to 1959, while the federal debt was increasing by 6 per cent state and local debt soared by more than 300 per cent.

"Property taxes, the traditional source of revenue for education, are in many areas rapidly approaching the limits of reasonableness," Ribicoff said.

The secretary made no reference in his statement to the proposal advanced by Roman Catholic leaders that federal aid in the form of long-term, low-interest loans be provided for private and parochial schools.

He outlined provisions under which assistance would be allocated in such a way as to take account of the total personal income of the citizens of each state in relation to the total number of public pupils in the state. He said the effect would be to provide the lowest income state with almost twice as much assistance for each pupil as the highest income state.

Kentucky Vigilantes Get Nod From Judge

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Vigilantes may ride in Harlan County, deep in the eastern Kentucky mountains once known for strife and violence.

Circuit Judge Edward G. Hill, commenting on numerous food and clothing thefts in this depressed coal field, said unpaid volunteers are available to stop new threats of lawlessness.

He added that the sheriff's office doesn't have enough officers to cope with the problem.

Farmers Say Ohio Solons Favor Land Retirement Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Farm Bureau members reported with satisfaction today that many of their congressmen support a long range land retirement program.

George Robey Jr., Columbus, said Republicans and Democrats alike from Ohio support this favorite legislative project of the Farm Bureau.

The program, sponsored by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio and others, would pay farmers to take about 60 million acres out of production.

The Ohio farmers, in Washington for their annual visit, had breakfast with their congressmen today. Later they will hear from Lawrence Witt, economic consultant to director George McGovern of the Food for Peace Program.

The Ohioans spent most of Tuesday discussing the kind of legislation they want with their congressmen. Many of them also managed to hear some of the debate in the House on the administration's emergency feed grain legislation.

This bill is opposed by the Ohio Farm Bureau. C. M. Wieting, information director of the Ohio Farm Bureau, said one thing Ohioans don't like in the bill is a proposal to let the government "dump" surplus corn.

Wieting said the government could wreck the corn market if permitted to sell corn below the support price. He predicted this particular proposal would be defeated.

The Ohioans were highly optimistic over the chances of a long range land retirement program being enacted by Congress.

Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., told them Tuesday this proposal would be given a high priority once the emergency feed grain bill is enacted.

He said President Kennedy had been asked by Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., to hold off his farm message until the feed grain bill is out of the way. Kennedy, Holland said, agreed to do this.

Some 450 exhibits will be judged at Circleville High School gymnasium tomorrow prior to the annual Science Fair.

About 100 judges will be used to check over the exhibits made and described by Circleville school students. The general public is invited to attend the Science Fair starting at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

The Science Fair is backed by the Circleville Kiwanis Club, which furnishes awards for the entrants.

County Court Places Two On Probation

Two criminal cases were disposed of in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court yesterday by Judge William Ammer.

Ralph E. Hyer, formerly of Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, was placed on a charge of uttering a forged and counterfeit check. Hyer was committed to Lima State Hospital January 26, for an observation period and was returned Monday.

Gary Silcott, Lancaster, was placed on a charge of taking clothing and tools from a parked auto on the General Electric parking lot February 20.

Both Hyer and Silcott waived rights of grand jury indictment and were tried on information gathered by Prosecuting Attorney Robert Huffer.

Stock Mart Continues Dip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to decline in heavy trading early this afternoon although a number of issues posted big gains against the trend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .60 at 238.50.

Most losses of key stocks were fractional but some dropped 1 or 2 points.

Chemicals showed some of the sharper losses. Coppers also were clipped badly here and there. The price of scrap copper was reduced. Steels, motors, rails and airlines were a bit lower on balance.

Senate Urged To Act Quickly On Idle Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg today urged swift Senate action on the administration's program to give $1 billion additional unemployment compensation benefits to jobless workers. The House has passed the bill.

With 5,705,000 persons listed as unemployed, the highest idle total in 20 years, Goldberg told the Senate Finance Committee the situation "is grave enough to warrant immediate attention by the Congress."

He hopes to start the flow of additional benefit payments to the unemployed by mid-April.

Goldberg asked the committee to approve the house bill without change. It would provide up to 13 additional weeks of benefit payments to an estimated 3,125,000 or more workers who have exhausted or are about to exhaust their payments.

The extra benefits would be financed by increasing employers' payroll taxes from 3.1 to 3.5 percent for two years.

Unemployment continued to worsen in February, climbing by 320,000 to 5,705,000, highest idle figure in 20 years. What happens in March will largely depend upon weather conditions — approaching springtime normally opens up outdoor job opportunities.

Kennedy has promised to make a new critical appraisal of the economy in April to determine whether broader economic recovery steps are needed. The March job figures due in early April are likely to weigh heavily in this decision.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Tuesday in announcing the new job data for February that naturally the administration hopes that seasonal factors, meaning favorable spring weather and pre-Easter buying, will tend to diminish the economic downturn.

Goldberg's gloomy report of the February job picture, aggravated probably by bitter winter snows, came as the Senate Finance Committee prepared to hold a one-day hearing on the administration's plan to speed an additional $1 billion unemployment compensation benefits to idled workers.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he anticipated no serious opposition to the proposal, with committee approval expected Thursday and quick Senate action early next week. The bill has already passed the House.

Goldberg reported this job situation in February:

Employment—up 200,000 from January to a record for February of 64,655,000.

Unemployment—up 320,000 to 5,705,000, highest idle total since the summer of 1941—just before World War II at the tag end of the great depression. The January-February increase in unemployment was about triple the normal increase for this period.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment rose from 6.6 per cent of the work force in January to 6.8 per cent in February. Unemployment is 1,800,000 higher than a year ago.

City To Get Golf and Jump Center Soon

A trampoline center and miniature golf course will open here about April 15, Ed Webb, 109 Dunmore Road, announced today.

Webb, business manager at Clifton's Motor Sales, will own and operate the new source of recreation. He announced that the location of the trampoline center and miniature golf course would be adjacent to the Circleville Swimming Pool at Ted Lewis Park.

"Construction will begin immediately and we should be ready for business about April 15," Webb said.

Plans call for ten trampoline units and a nine-hole golf course. Webb announced that free instruction will be offered beginners.

"TRAMPOLELEAPING", as the new sport is known, has become very popular in many high schools, and colleges throughout the country. The center at Ted Lewis Park will initiate the sport in this area.

Webb continued to say that "trampolineleap" is not only a source of recreation but one of the best forms of exercise available.

"We are installing ten 9 by 15 foot units to begin with, but have anticipated space for an additional five units," Webb added.

Clean Sweep Fore and Aft Plus Raw Fish

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fed up with eating raw fish and with the captain's discipline, an Irishman and 17 other crew members of the Swedish freighter Parramatta are on strike at Pier 41.

Michael Grew, 24, the rebellious son of Erin, and other Swedish members of the 37-man crew marched off the ship Tuesday and began picketing.

The Swedish crewmen, apparently content with both the cooking and Capt. Erik Erikson, went cheerfully about their duties. The cook, Leif Nilsson, defended his creations as the usual fare aboard any Swedish vessel.

"We've been eating raw fish all our lives," Nilsson told reporters. "They've got to get used to our food."

Grew, whose co-leader in the strike is an Australian deckhand, Graham Chalico, said they had asked the skipper for less raw fish and other considerations—including two towels a week instead of one, two coffee breaks a day, more soap and three hot meals a day on weekends when the Parramatta is in port. They also want a hot plate returned to the crew's galley.

Captain Erikson said he had revoked some of the crew's privileges because their quarters had become "a pigpen."

"They refused to keep a clean ship," he said.

Tires, Wheels Taken

Robert Siniff, 318 Mingo St., told the sheriff's department this week that two tires and wheels were taken from a wagon parked at the John Bowers farm. Deputy Dixie Watters investigated.

Price-Fixers Leave Prison

Electric Executives See Sentences Cut

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Westinghouse Electric Corp. sales manager, one of two executives freed from prison after serving 26 days on charges of price-fixing, said today he plans to go back to work but that he didn't know exactly when.

This was the only comment from Charles I. Maunel, 60, when he was reached at his home in suburban Drexel Hill following his release Tuesday from the Montgomery County prison in Norristown, Pa.

Maunel indicated he was in no mood to answer reporter's questions.

Maunel is sales manager of the firm's steam and turbine division here. Westinghouse announced shortly after its executives were sentenced that the firm would take no disciplinary action against them.

John H. Chiles, 47, of Sharon, Pa., vice president in charge of the firm's transformer plant here, the other executive released Tuesday, could not be reached immediately for comment.

Maunel and Chiles were among seven electrical equipment manufacturing firm executives jailed in the giant antitrust case last month.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey of U. S. District Court, who sentenced the seven to 30 days, authorized the release of Maunel and Chiles on a petition by their attorney to reduce their sentences to 26 days because of their "exemplary behavior" in prison.

Court officials announced that the other executives, who began serving their sentences after Maunel and Chiles, also will be released four days early.

Scheduled for release Friday are William S. Ginn, 45, Schenectady, N. Y., General Electric Co. vice president who earns $135,000 a year; Lewis J. Burger, 48, Fort Wayne, Ind., and George E. Burns, Cleveland, also from GE; and Edwin R. Jung, 58, vice president and director of Clark Controller Co. of Cleveland.

John M. Cook, 54, vice president of Cutler-Hammer Inc. of Milwaukee is scheduled for release Saturday.

Commissioners Pay $568 in Sheep Claims

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners paid a total of $568.05 to area farmers today for the first quarterly sheep claims.

Commissioner Charles Morris Jr. said some farmers were not compensated for the full amount of the claims filed.

Morris said the reason for this was that they had not reported the amount claimed on their personal property tax returns. "We cannot pay a claim of $25 to a farmer who valued a sheep at $15 on his personal tax return," stated Morris.

Sheep claims are made by area farmers four times a year. For example, if a sheep is killed by a dog, the farmer immediately has two or three appraisers to view the sheep; a claim is filed with the county auditor; claims are reviewed by the commission at their quarterly meetings and paid according to the amounts that the sheep were valued at on the personal property tax forms.

Dollar Crisis Is Over

In Switzerland, where people listen for gossip about international finance and appraisals of world monetary trends, it is being said that the United States dollar is over its crisis. The flight from the dollar has slowed to a crawl.

The dollar is gaining in value in relation to other currencies. And the loss of U. S. gold, which was running at the rate of more than $100 million a week, is down to less than $25 million.

The so-called dollar crisis seems to have stemmed from barracks room gossip and fears about the stability of the dollar. But international finance will watch the trends as usual.

A Glamour Girl at Age 10

By JOY STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—If my 10½-year-old daughter Gay doesn't grow up to be a glamour girl, it certainly won't be because she didn't start at an early enough age.

It all happened so suddenly I still can't believe that last year's rumpled, tousled, bedraggled too-busy-to-be-bothered boyden has turned into this year's neatly coiffed, fashion-wise, color-conscious would-be sophisticate.

Just what caused this complete changeover I'll never know, but her new self is not without problems to her family.

Time was when Gay would absent-mindedly put on whatever clothes supplied for her without actually seeing them. Those were the good old days!

Now our little lady sets her alarm 15 minutes earlier to give herself time to consult the thermometer, her social calendar and

The current climate of confidence can change quickly if measures so far adopted do not stop the dollar imbalance. And, of course, if Washington should take action to accelerate the inflationary trend, world financiers would begin scrutinizing the dollar's position closely again.

A dude ranch is where it's too painful to ride horseback after you learn how.

probably her horoscope before arriving at the complicated decision on what to wear.

Where once she couldn't stand still long enough for me to get even the lesser tangles out of her locks, she now monopolizes the bathroom mirror while she painstakingly combs each hair in place.

Shopping is a real ordeal. While in her younger days anything fancy used to take her eye—velvets, rhinestones, impossible color combinations—she now insists every item she purchases must be just what the well-dressed sixth-grader is wearing, no matter how dull.

If mother so much as suggests a skirt that is not the proper color or style she is withered by a glance from her daughter. "Mother," Gay says in pitying tones, "don't you know what ISN'T fashionable!"

Nor does she confine her self-improvement program to the realm of clothes. She is determined not to grow old before her time, and on this score she is an advertising man's dream girl.

Just let a television commercial mention that a soap is kind to your hands, a cream prevents aging or a shampoo leaves soft highlights in your hair. Gay is off to the store at a trot to purchase these promises of beauty.

She carefully studies her face for signs of wrinkles, double chins or other threats of advancing age. "After all," she frowns, "I will be 11 soon."

We're pretty sure, though, that she'll hang on to her youth for a while longer even without the aid of the corner drugstore. She's still her Daddy's little girl.

The other night she bathed with her cold cream soap, applied the colorless nail polish which she deprecates as babyish, put on her most glamorous robe and addressed herself to her father.

"Daddy," she asked as she climbed into his lap, "am I sultry?"

The Heart Still Responds

By George Sokolsky

When journalistic highbrows get together some of the shop-talk gravitates about the very old question as to what is news. It used to be, in this country, that folks were interested in what went on about them, births, marriages, murders, lost and found, crooks, political and just plain, and such stirring items. Then we all became educated and took to dealing with things significant like Cuba and the Congo and what Nasser said to Khrushchev. In fact, all of a sudden the country got so full of experts that all President Kennedy needed to do was play golf at Palm Beach and professors just fitted into jobs in Washington. So instead of patronage going to deserving Democrats, it went to relieve the universities of surplus faculty.

The human heart, however, still responds to joy and laughter and sorrow and suffering and therefore when a little girl, only four years old, is raped and abused and beaten and killed by a drunkard, an entire nation is moved. The story is sordid. The pictures are revolting. The description of the man is degrading. But were it not for the excitement of newspapers and television, this miserable creature might still be moving about killing other little girls.

Williams talking to Kasavubu is less sordid than the shocking tale of a woman murder of a child by a degenerate, but this is news and very important news, while "Soapy" is only a problem.

And when one thinks of such an item and it makes him a bit emotional and raises his blood pressure, it comes to him that we only spend $14,000,000 a year for research about the heart and blood pressure. In these days of easy billions, why is there so little for something so important?

Even with such a small amount available for research, so much is being done. It used to be that if a fellow had trouble with his heart, he was an invalid. He sat in a chair waiting to die. He was afraid to move too much, to walk, to get excited, to take trips. He probably died from boredom.

Today one lives through a coronary, doing what he used to do, but just a little bit more sensibly. He does not eat as much and he chooses his food with just a bit more delicacy. It used to be that I could consume any quantity of food, of any richness. But what did it prove? It seems to me now that it only proved that I could do it without bursting my trousers just as a weight lifter can lift heavy weights without falling down.

So I weighed 234 pounds, smoked about 20 cigars a day, slept only five hours a day and went everywhere, saw everything and when it was all over, I had to count calories. So today I weigh 148 pounds, smoke nothing at all, sleep on and off as fatigue gets me, read more, work harder at essentials than ever before. The only thing that happened was that I cut the inessential, the time-wasting, health-wasting activities that bring no rewards. I never felt better since my boyhood, and I have also had an operation for a small, localized cancer.

Of course, there are folks who like to be sick and there are other folks who are ashamed to be sick.

Both types are irrational. Reason dictates that we face the facts of life and do the best we can. The doctors who are doing heart research and dietary research are infinitely more important to us than politicians and movie stars and similar celebrities. They are making it possible for us to live longer and in better spirits and to continue to be useful.

The day may come when nobody thinks of retiring from work until he has reached the century mark. Exaggerated? Well, who in our grandfathers' time could have believed that anybody could manage to survive heart ailments, continue to be President of the United States, play golf and be insulted by Khrushchev without keeling over?

So if the ghost of Lumumba bores you and the stony face of Gromyko annoys you and you want to think of something gay and cheerful, cast your mind on the wonderful work that is being done by obscure and unthanked doctors, nurses, dieticians, pathologists and all sorts of technicians to prolong your life by helping your heart do its job.

Police Mike Evidence Is Ruled Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has thrown out the gambling convictions of three men because police obtained evidence by driving a "needle microphone" into the wall of a house.

In a unanimous decision, the high court held that this amounted to unauthorized physical penetration into the house in violation of the Constitution's bar against unreasonable search and seizure.

The court said it was not ruling on the broader question of general use of electronic devices to gather evidence but without physical penetration of premises.

The case before the high court was that of Meyer Schwartz of Pittsburgh and Julius Silverman and Robert L. Martin of Washington. They were convicted in 1958 of conducting a gambling operation in a house here near the State Department. Each was sentenced to 20 months to five years imprisonment.

The house was of the row type. Police listened in from the house next door by driving what is known as a spike or needle microphone into the wall.

Door Locked First Time, So Burglars Show Up

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—The very first time the doors had been locked at the new Green Valley Baptist Association headquarters here, someone broke in.

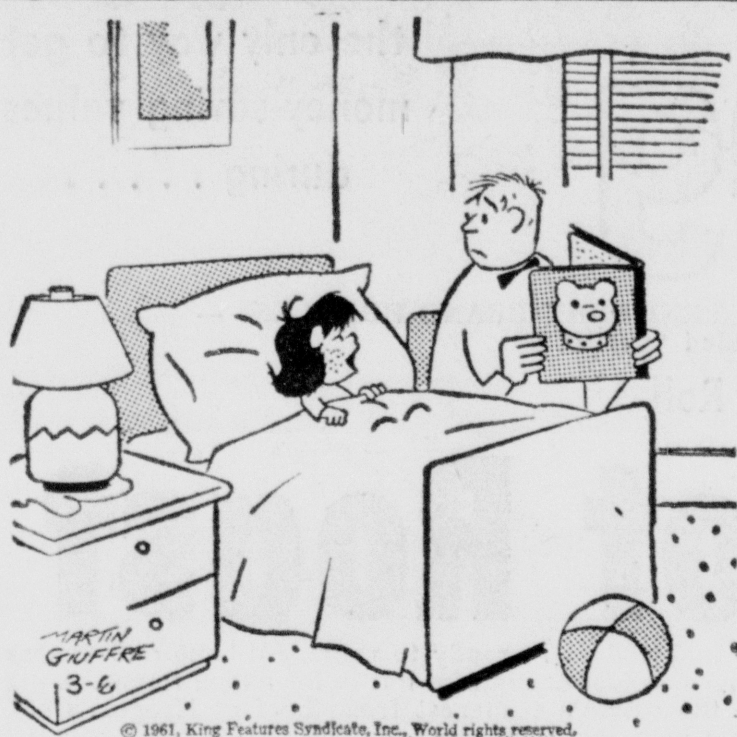

Drawers were opened and the building otherwise ransacked, but nothing was missing.

"Guess they were just taking a survey," remarked the Rev. Tom Francis.

THE NATIONAL BROADCASTING COMPANY features a top-ranking M.C. named Gene Rayburn. An out-of-town fan asked Rayburn one morning, "Are you related to the Speaker of the House?"

"Am I related?" chuckled Rayburn. "I'm married to her!"

A movie director once requested Actor Victor Mature to register a certain expression for a scene in progress. "See here," snapped Mature. "I have three basic expressions: I can look right, I can look left, and I can look straight ahead. Now which expression do you want?"

A Park Avenue matron took her 6-year-old daughter to see a large stable in the Bedford Hills sector of Westchester. The youngster's attention was captured immediately by a newborn colt.

"Look, Mommy," she caroled. "A foreign horse!"

Cost of Going Broke Slated To Go Up in Cincinnati Area

CINCINNATI (AP)—It will cost more to go broke in southwest Ohio starting next month.

The bankruptcy part of U.S. District Court plans to add $2 to the $50 cost of filing bankruptcy petitions, starting April 1.

The extra two dollars will help pay for a recording device used to take testimony of the bankrupt at the first meeting of creditors.

"This might show discrepancies of what the bankrupt says under oath and what his schedules show," said Raymond Pellman, bankruptcy referee.

However, the extra $2 won't do much to stem the flood of debtors filing in bankruptcy court, an increase that has blossomed beyond all expectations.

In the first two months of this year 441 cases were filed compared to 313 in a like period of 1960. At that rate, the 1961 total will go well over 1960's record 2,218.

What's the reason?

"It's greed and ignorance," said Pellman.

"It's a combination of over-extension of credit and lack of judgment on the part of the lenders. It's lack of judgment on the part of the debtors."

However, the referee said there are two sides to every case. "I don't want to get into a box criticizing credit," he said. "I don't want to get into a box criticizing the bankrupt."

Pellman said he thinks one of the chief reasons for the increase is "the person is cut down to a lower income than he has been accustomed to. He had planned expenditures up to his higher earning capacity."

He said the majority of cases have deficiency judgments on autos and furniture which have been repossessed. He said:

"They don't feel morally obligated to pay the amount of the deficiency because they automatically have turned back the property."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't look now, but that person peering over Junior's shoulder at the toys in the window could be a businessman.

His interest is strictly in making his sales graph curve upward. Toy makers contend that their products now top the list of premiums given away each year as a stimulant for sales.

The A. C. Gilbert Co. of New Haven, Conn., says it made a survey of premiums which shows annual usage of toys running at $50 million in retail value. The Gilbert company makes toys.

The survey also reports that in the last half of 1960, use of toys to raise sales on consumer and dealer level increased by almost one-third over the previous year.

It wasn't too long ago that the only toys used as premiums were inexpensive miniatures or small items sold through the mail for a boxtop and a dime.

Today, toys are offered you from all sides — as out-and-out gifts or at a special price. The premiums come with everything from breakfast foods to gasoline.

You may get the offer as a credit card holder or just a cash customer. Or it may be part of a manufacturer's approach to you if you're a garage mechanic, a camera dealer or a grocer.

In every case there's the proviso—you purchase a certain item or stock it.

The toys aren't all just gee-gaws by any means.

The Buddy "L" Toy Makers of East Moline, Ill., furnished a toy Texaco service station which customers of Texaco gasoline dealers bought at $3.50. The makers say that elsewhere this would retail at $7.95.

General Foods gave away 2,000 American Flyer Frontiersman model trains and trestle sets in their 1960 Post cereals sweepstakes. The maker, Gilbert, says these would normally retail for about $50 each.

Auto-Lite bought several thousand sets of Gilbert's American Flyer stock car race for dealer promotion of its spark plugs. This game has two miniature stock cars racing around a figure-eight track under remote control. Naturally each car has an Auto-Lite mark on its trunk. The toymaker also sold the unmarked gadgets through regular channels with a $34.95 price tag.

Union Carbide used trains with specially marked chemical tank cars to sell Prestone to dealers. Dolls helped Colgate sell toothpaste to consumers. Ford used dolls based on the comic strip, Peanuts. General Electric used Erector sets to sell more photo flash bulbs.

These big toy orders tend to go to large toymakers who are more in a position to handle them. Also the big firms go in for advertising campaigns which help boost the appeal of the premiums.

But why should producers of goods largely bought by adults use toys to promote sales?

Harvey E. Rath, vice president in charge of sales for Gilbert, says: "Toys generate a whole new audience for a product, not only among the fast-growing juvenile population, but among their parents as well. If the product and price is competitive, it's hard to resist the offer of a free or bargain priced toy."

RECEIVES MEDAL—In Miami Beach, Fla., for a meeting with the AFL-CIO Executive Council, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg addresses the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, from whom he received the Herbert H. Lehman medal.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Sir:

In answer to the letter signed, "Just one of us,"

"If the parents of the youth were not so busy with their social life they wouldn't have to send their children to see unfit movies. (As some are called) just to get the kids out of the house."

"I think some of the blame should fall on the parents not on the theater."

"The parents want the kids out of the house so they won't be making noise, so they take them to the show to make noise there."

"We took our 14-year-old daughter to see 'Misfits' which was 'sexy' (as you call it)."

"We didn't send her with a group of others to giggle and laugh and make crazy noises."

"Other children were there her age and younger without parents. I will agree some movies should not be seen by kids (the horror pictures, for example)."

"There is no law that says we have to let our children go see them."

"If you are so hopped up about these youth clubs, would you give your time and money to see that kids join?"

"Or would you like for someone else to do it for you?"

"The people who complain the most do the least."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Tit for Tat — Both Lose!

DEAR ABBY: From the day we were married I gave my wife a very generous allowance, but she never saved a dime. She said she wasn't going to save her money for my next wife to spend. It took me 15 years to figure out an answer. Now I tell her that I am not going to save any money either — let her next husband support her.

Consequently, we have nothing put away for our future and no economic security. Don't you think a woman should save something, or is that just a man's duty?

FEATHER MERCHANT: DEAR FEATHER: I think EVERYONE should save a part of his income or allowance. A man is morally obligated to provide for his wife's future should he go first. But a woman who doesn't lay away a little nestegg, should her breadwinner lose his job or become ill, is just plain cuckoo.

DEAR ABBY: Last night a neighbor of mine dropped by unexpectedly to visit with me. I had my table all set for a dinner party I was giving the next day. When she saw it, she all but laughed in my face. She said, "For crying out loud, you'll have to dust your dishes by the time your guests come!"

Now, Abby, I wasn't raised in the ritziest home in the world, but it was no tar shack either, and my mother always used to set her table the night before. Is it really unsanitary? Or is my neighbor wrong?

PREPARED AHEAD OF TIME: DEAR PREPARED: Most women like to set their table after the final vacuuming and dusting have been done, but if you find it easier to set your table the night before, it is quite all right. Your neighbor could dust off her manners.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter married a very nice neighbor boy. Neither one of the young people smoke, but both their fathers do. Shortly after they were jettied in their apartment, they invited both families for dinner. When we got there the first thing we saw was a "NO SMOKING" sign in the living room. I have never seen or heard anything like this before and thought surely it must have been a joke. My husband lit a cigarette, our son-in-law disappeared and didn't even come back to say goodnight. What do you make of this kind of behavior?

STUNNED: DEAR STUNNED: A "NO SMOKING" sign doesn't belong in the living room—but the host does when he's invited guests. The young man's behavior was childish.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TIRED OF DROPPERINNERS": When you treat PESTS like GUESTS, you are asking for it.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

EX-MAID WRITES BOOK—Mrs. Lillian Rogers Parks of New York, who retired in 1960 after 30 years of service as a White House maid and seamstress, says in her newly-published book that youthfulness was a motivating factor in the life of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower. In her book, "My Thirty Years Backstairs at the White House," Mrs. Parks said Mrs. Eisenhower "fought to remain youthful," and wanted her daughter-in-law and grandchildren to call her "Mimi," not "Grandma."

Piqua To Get Atom Reactor Vessel Soon

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—Atoms International takes another key step this week as it heads toward completion of the multimillion dollar organic moderated reactor plant in Piqua.

Farris U. Bower, engineer in charge of construction, said workmen will swing a huge reactor vessel into place inside the dome-shaped container. The vessel—26 feet long and 6½ feet in diameter—is so large that a crane has been installed in the dome of the plant to lift it for future repairs and refueling.

Bower said the vessel will house the fuel and other machinery to produce the nuclear energy which is converted into steam and piped across the Great Miami River to the municipal power plant.

Only two ounces of U-235 would be required to operate the 11,500 kilowatt plant at peak capacity for a 24-hour period. It would require 2½ train cars of coal, conventional fuel at the power plant, to produce the same result.

The engineer said the fuel elements will be primed with several thousand pounds of U-235 and about 260 pounds of U-239. It is the latter which produces the heat, Bower said.

Atoms International, which is building the plant, hopes to make the first "critical" tests of the installation by early autumn.

The city of Piqua will operate the reactor for five years under terms of the present contract with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Panel OKs U.S. Role in Economic Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today overwhelmingly approved U.S. membership in the Organization for Economic Cooperation Development (OECD).

A vote of 16-0, with one member abstaining, endorsed the 20-nation agreement after the committee settled on ratification language assuring the agreement would not limit the power of Congress to pass on American tariffs.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., withheld his vote. The OECD treaty was signed in Paris last Dec. 14. It is designed to promote policies for the expansion of world trade on a multilateral, nondiscriminatory basis, build up the economies of its members, and contribute multilateral aid to underdeveloped nations.

Local Kiwanis Hears Talk On Chemistry; 7 Honored

Joseph R. Bartz presented an interesting talk on "Chemical Progress" before the local Kiwanis Club Monday.

Bartz, associated with DuPont, gave his talk in conjunction with Chemical Progress Week which will be observed next month.

The speaker told of the vast progress in chemistry in the last 10 years. He pointed out the vital aspect of research and cited many examples of products which have come into being through chemical study.

Bartz also gave a rundown on what could be expected chemically in the 1960-70 period. He said there is no limit to speculations on what chemistry will produce in the future.

A SPECIAL highlight of the meeting was the awarding of pins to seven Kiwanians for perfect attendance.

A standing ovation was given to Ernest Hill of Williamsport for a 31-year perfect slate. Pins also were awarded to Joe Bell 12 years; Bertus Bennett, 11 years; Robert Wilson, nine years; George Hartman, eight years; Winship Story, five years; and Charles Kirkpatrick, five years.

The pins were presented by Charles Schieber.

Story, reporting on the Kiwanis sponsored Science Fair at the high school, said a record 465 entries have been received. He said additional judges are urgently needed. The Science Fair will be held Thursday and Friday at CHS.

Byron Gulick attended the meeting as a guest. The Rev. L. S. Metzler conducted special Lenten Services prior to the business meeting.

Scioto Students Take Tour of State House

State Representative Ed Wallace, 425 N. Court St., entertained two classes from Scioto Twp. High School last week at the State House, Columbus.

The group was composed of Joseph Corbett, teacher, and 20 members of an American History Class; and John F. Gray, Scioto teacher, and 14 members of the American Government class. The bus driver, R. Linder, also participated in the tour.

During the tour, the group was introduced to Governor Michael V. DiSalle. The Governor spoke to the students briefly and answered a few questions.

A visit to the office of Secretary of State Ted Brown followed, after which they observed the General Assembly in session.

The tour concluded with a visit to the offices of State Treasurer Joseph Ferguson and State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Hamilton Elks Country Club Is Hit by Fire

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Fire leveled the Hamilton Elks Country Club on Ohio 4 Monday night, leaving only three brick chimneys standing.

The three-story frame building, closed for the winter, was due to open in 18 days.

Six fire companies from surrounding townships converged on the club five miles north of Hamilton. Loss was expected to top $100,000.

Al Chamberlain, caretaker, said the blaze apparently started in a kitchen or adjoining furnace room. He said much of the 300 golf members' equipment was in a second floor locker room.

Low-Salt Diet

- Tubal Pregnancy
- Polio Discoverer
- Humidity

Q. Are frozen vegetables suitable for persons on a low-salt diet?

A. Some are—others may not be. Brine is used in processing some frozen vegetables, especially peas and lima beans. This adds a substantial amount of salt to the vegetables.

Q. What causes tubal pregnancy and how is it treated?

A. Previous inflammation of the pelvic organs is one cause but in many cases the cause is unknown. Tubal pregnancy requires surgery and it is often necessary to remove the involved tube. Sometimes it is possible to surgically remove the product of conception without removing the tube. It has been stated that a woman becoming pregnant following a tubal pregnancy risks a recurrent tubal pregnancy in 50 per cent of cases.

Q. Is Dr. Sabin, the originator of the new oral polio vaccine, an American?

A. Dr. Sabin was born in Bialystok, which is now a part of Poland, but was then under Czarist Russia. He came to the United States as a youth and has been a U. S. citizen since 1930.

Q. Would keeping a pan of water on the radiator help moisten bedroom air?

A. It wouldn't do much good. It may take as much as a quart of water to moisten the air in a closed bedroom of ordinary size. This amount of water is supplied by a boiling tea kettle in 30 minutes or by an electric steamer in an hour or so. The humidification produced by pans of water, even on the radiator, is hardly worth mentioning. Even when bedroom air is comfortably moist, the moisture escapes when the door is opened and the humidity promptly falls to that of other rooms of the house.

Ohio Solon 'Terrified' by Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frances Bolton, R-Ohio, described the Kennedy administration's new Peace Corps Tuesday as "a terrifying thing."

Her comment, made at the ninth annual Republican Women's Conference, drew a burst of applause.

To this response, Mrs. Bolton told the women: "You have just taken a great stone off my heart by that applause."

She said everyone seems to be for the Peace Corps and "the press is all with them."

Mrs. Bolton was asked later by reporters why she feels so. "Because they are going at it too fast," she replied.

She said the young people and even middle-aged people will go overseas without any training, "without an understanding of the places they are going and without any certain knowledge of what they are doing."

However, the official White House announcement said persons assigned to the Peace Corps would be trained in advance, would work in their particular fields of formal education and must understand the language of the country to which they are assigned.

Some carefully supervised and trained groups have done well, said Mrs. Bolton, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. But it takes "a good year to train," she said.

"We will wreck the whole world if we do it badly," she said.

"I'm really scared of what this might be," she added, "and I don't know Shriver."

She was referring to R. Sargent Shriver, President Kennedy's brother-in-law who has been named to head the Peace Corps.

Most places in the central and southern counties had temperatures in the 40s. Chesapeake, however, had 51.

By early tonight, winds will shift to westerly as the low pressure area moves eastward through Ohio, and much colder air will enter the state, dropping temperatures into the upper 20s north and the 30s south by Thursday morning.

Some light snow flurries are expected near Lake Erie tonight and Thursday. Thursday will be mostly cloudy and cold.

Met Opera House To Be Torn Down

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera House, a yellow brick structure known for generations as a world center of operatic arts, is scheduled to be razed some time in the winter of 1964-65. The block-square property on which the 78-year-old landmark is located will be turned over to a group of investors who plan to erect a commercial building.

The Metropolitan Opera Association announced Monday it hopes to be in its new home at the center, on Manhattan's West Side in time for the 1964-65 season.

3 Companies Shun Pleas in Price-Fix Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Three Pennsylvania firms indicted on charges of price fixing in the sale of resistors commercially and to the armed forces, pleaded "no contest" Tuesday in U. S. District Court, prompting protests by government attorneys.

Norman Seidler of Cleveland, told Judge Carl Weinman:

"These companies met two or three times a year since 1955 to discuss the sale of electronic resistors in intimate detail."

"Until 1955 there was competition among them for the sale of resistors to the armed forces. In the following months, however, the companies exchanged tentative price lists, and in October, 1958, all submitted the same price lists."

Pleading no contest were the Stackpole Carbon Co. and the Speer Carbon Co., both of St. Marys, Pa., and the International Resistance Co. of Philadelphia.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by the Allen-Bradley Co. of Milwaukee; Edward W. Butler, vice president of marketing for the Speer Co., and George W. Vater, sales manager for the Allen-Bradley electronics components division.

All were indicted on the basis of alleged price fixing in sales to the Dayton Air Force Depot here, which made purchases from the four companies last year totaling some $3 million.

State's Expenses Exceed Income

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The February cost of operating the state government exceeded receipts by some $80 million, according to State Auditor James A. Rhodes. A deficit totaling $108 million exists for the first eight months of the fiscal year.

Rhodes said February receipts totaled $100,599,354.59, and total operating costs were $181,045,926.37. The result is a deficit of $80,446,571.78, he said.

During the first eight months of the fiscal year, expenditures were $1,131,786,935.74, or $108,776,564.26 in excess of the receipts of $1,023,010,371.48 since the fiscal term began last July 1.

Rhodes said total revenues fell $71,164,314.98 from the corresponding eight-month period last year, while expenditures for the current fiscal year are up $33,553,763.60 over the same period last year.

5,000 Nationalist Chinese In Jungles Bring Headaches

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Some 5,000 Nationalist Chinese irregulars—remnants of Chiang Kai-shek's anti-Communist force on the mainland—are posing a problem for Southeast Asia and the United States.

For 12 years the irregulars have been roaming the 100-mile long, heavily jungled frontier area where Thailand, Laos, Burma and Communist China meet.

From hideaways in Burmese territory, where they set up an opium processing business, the Nationalists made occasional forays on Communist Chinese border villages.

This earned them the name of bandits among Burmese officials, who feared the raids would spoil the increasingly friendly relations between neutralist Burma and its powerful Communist neighbor.

The Nationalist activities became even more of an irritant last year when the Burmese and Chinese reached agreement on a border treaty ending a long dispute between the two countries. Last January the Burmese army launched a campaign to clean out the Nationalists.

The Nationalists, armed mostly with World War II vintage weapons, slipped over the borders into neighboring countries. The bulk of them fled to Laos while about 1,000 crossed into Thailand.

Rumors that Nationalist planes from Formosa were dropping American-supplied arms to the irregulars were heightened last month when a Formosa-based plane was shot down in the border area. The Burmese claimed it had dropped arms to the irregulars, and thousands of Burmese rioted in front of the U. S. Embassy in Rangoon.

The U. S. government dispatched an American mission to north Burma to check on the rumors and expressed its concern to Chiang Kai-shek's government. Chiang's regime claimed the plane was unarmed, chartered by a relief association on Formosa, and was dropping food and medicine.

Thailand's government last week said it had ordered strong troop detachments to northernmost Chiangrai Province to disarm the Chinese and "in case of resistance to expel them from Thai territory by force." Monday night the Thais said the irregulars had withdrawn, presumably back to give the Burmese more headaches.

GOP Urged To Increase Campaigning in Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Florence Dwyer of New Jersey advised the Republican party today that it should make its "New Frontier" the larger cities and metropolitan areas.

"This is where the people are. This is where the Republicans in the past have neglected many opportunities and lost many elections," she said.

Mrs. Dwyer, who comes from an industrial district, was one of the Republican congresswomen reporting to the annual Republican Women's Conference on how they won election.

Low Heels Debate Won By Woman

NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—Judith Elwell went back to her job in the Department of Public Utilities today, wearing low heels.

It was a compromise of sorts in her battle with her employer, who has banned certain items of apparel such as leotards, slacks, bobby socks, ballet slippers, moccasins, "and other shoes without heels."

Mrs. Elwell, armed with a doctor's certificate, was permitted to return to work in low heels.

Manager Philip L. White issued his edict aimed at ending what he called the "sloppy appearance of female employees," and Mrs. Elwell complied for a while but then came to her typing job in flat shoes.

She was suspended last Monday. She appealed the suspension to the City Pension Board.

A heavy woman, Mrs. Elwell told the board at a hearing Saturday that she preferred low heels not only because of her weight but because she is expecting a child.

While permitting Mrs. Elwell to wear flat shoes if she brought a doctor's recommendation to do so the board upheld White's right to issue the no-sloppiness order.

Japanese Premier Books Visit to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda of Japan will visit Washington June 20-22 for talks with President Kennedy and other high administration officials.

In announcing this today, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said he had no information on specific subjects to be discussed.

In Tokyo, informed government sources said one of the main topics the Japanese leader wants to take up with the President is Communist China. The sources said Ikeda wants to sound out the American attitude on U.S. recognition of Red China and China's influence in Asia.

Kentucky War Veteran Declines State Bonus

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — At least one World War II veteran has declined to accept Kentucky's bonus for veterans, due to be paid next month.

Chelf served in the Army Air Corps.

Dillon Dam Buildings To Be Sold by U.S.

Ohio Assembly Debates Roads, Idle Pay Bills

Among four bills passed by the House and sent to the Senate were measures to:

Give emergency permission to commercial game preserves to allow the shooting of quail through April 30. After a four-month break, quail shooting on such preserves could be resumed between Sept. 1 and April 30 next year.

Require the Ohio Turnpike Commission to provide fire protection for turnpike facilities.

The Senate passed and sent two minor measures to the House.

One permits candidates for embalmers' examinations to take credit for university courses in lieu of a year's training in a special school for morticians. The other designates the sheriff as the responsible party in moving prisoners between jail and courtrooms.

With six legislative days remaining before the House clamps down on the introduction of new bills, the total for both houses stands at 1,084 — 701 in the House and 383 in the Senate. That is an average of more than 10 for each Senate member and nearly five for each House member. Bills introduced Tuesday included measures to:

Make railroads responsible for at least 65 per cent of the cost of any grade-crossing separation if the crossing was in existence in 1939.

Increase the maximum loan a building and loan association may make on real estate.

Require drivers to keep in the right-hand lane on multi-lane highways except when passing or making left turns.

Require that the county engineer approve the legal description of a piece of real estate before the auditor can record an ownership change on his tax list.

Eliminate the 50 m.p.h. highway speed limit at night and make 60 m.p.h. legal, day or night.

Outlaw use of gill nets during July and August within one mile of land in the Lake Erie fishing district and reduce the legal length of commercially caught perch from 8 1/2 to 8 inches and increase the legal length on yellow pike from 13 to 14 inches.

Provide a governor — elect a Statehouse office and Finance Department assistance beginning Dec. 1 after his election.

Permit voters to adopt any one of three alternate forms of county government by majority vote.

Allow local enforcement officers to regulate shopping center traffic.

Create county turnpike commissions for private construction of toll roads.

Sen. Harry E. Schwall, R-Fulton, came up with two proposals to amend the Ohio constitution. One would require the governor to poll the legislature in advance of a proposed special session and receive assurances from two-thirds of the members that they are willing to consider the business at hand. The other would require the governor to call a special session at the request of two-thirds of the membership of each house. Under the present constitutional provision, the governor only can call a special session and the session may consider only the matters he specifies.

The House has adopted and sent to the Senate a resolution ratifying the proposed 23rd Amendment to the federal constitution which would give residents of the District of Columbia the right to vote for president. The House vote was 125-6.

Sen. Theodore M. Gray, Piqua Republican, told newsmen the Senate State Government Committee of which he is chairman expects to move promptly on the question of ratification.

So far, Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Hamilton, told the House, 23 states have ratified the proposed amendment. It takes 38 to make an amendment a part of the U.S. Constitution.

Robberies in Cleveland Climb to Record High

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two elements — unemployment and the sudden warm weather — have combined to push robberies committed here so far this year to a record high, says the city's chief of detectives.

Inspector Richard Wagner said robberies are up 40.5 per cent over the same period last year. He said a total of 373 robberies were reported since Jan. 1, compared with 264 in the same period in 1960.

New U.S. Office Building Planned in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Construction of a $42 million federal office building here will begin early in 1963, it was announced following a meeting Tuesday between federal and state officials and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

John W. Chapman Jr., regional director of the General Services Administration, said a couple of million dollars also would be spent to clean and remodel the old Federal Building on Public Square.

London's Master Tailor Makes Armored Waistcoats

By JOSEPH WHITT
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LONDON — A bulletproof waistcoat, sir? said the man, smiling as he bowed. "Certainly. Perhaps you'd care to glance at our style book. We have a range to suit all needs and occasions."

Each year between 100 and 200 people come to this man in his basement shop. They all want the commodity that only 57-year-old Leonard Barratt can provide—his made-to-measure barrier of steel against sudden death.

Barratt, master tailor and cutter, is a peace-loving man who never has heard a shot fired in anger—yet he has become the world's acknowledged expert in intimate human armorplating.

He heads the tailoring department of the Wilkinson Sword Co., Ltd. — the most extraordinary tailoring department in the world. Wilkinson has been making swords since 1772. But now, through Barratt and his two assistants, they make a fine, 40-pound ($113) suit along with the armored waistcoat ("vest" in the United States).

There is the W301 (Light Armored Waistcoat) which is designed "To resist most revolver bullets at any range, and knife thrusts." Weighs 12 pounds. Price: $65.

There is the W302—standard model. "Made to resist revolver bullets at any range." Weighs 20 pounds.

For the really scared, there is the W305, or heavy-duty model. It is not recommended for evening wear—it fits over the suit.

Wilkinson went into the armored waistcoat business in 1915. Barratt's father made a bulletproof military uniform, using steel plates laid edge to edge in the jacket lining.

"Thus was born the first suit of armor for a modern knight," Barratt said. "I worked with my father. In 1928 I designed what was the first really efficient bulletproof waistcoat."

"The weak spot in my father's design was the butt-joint of the plates. Mine consisted of hundreds of two-inch-square, high tensile steel plates, each of which — like the armadillo's shell — overlaps another."

"A multitude of small plates offers the best protection because a

Does he or doesn't he? He probably does wear an armored waistcoat, because he happens to be the head messenger of the Bank of England.

small square of metal will collapse on a bullet's impact; a sheet of steel would be penetrated."

Who buys bulletproof waistcoats?

"Only a handful of our customers are servicemen," Barratt said. "The rest are policemen, politicians, hunters, explorers and even some ordinary citizens. Most of the time we don't know who our customers are, let alone what their precise needs are."

Just how bulletproof is a bulletproof waistcoat?

"We make modest claims. We don't say it'll stop a .303 rifle bullet. Our test waistcoat has five revolver bullets embedded in it."

"I admit that no one was actually wearing it at the time the bullets were fired. I also must admit to never actually having been under fire while wearing one of my own creations. However, there's no need to. We make the most exhaustive tests under simulated conditions."

"As far as we know, our product has always given satisfaction, though no one ever tells you if they're satisfied. One can only assume that we'd have heard if they hadn't been."

"Our waistcoats are unobtrusive and I recommend wearing them under the shirt. You can't tell if a man is wearing one."

"In fact, they do something for a man. Give him an extra couple of inches around the chest—though I don't think anyone has ever bought a bulletproof waist coat just to improve his figure."

Legal Opinion Is Given on Judge's Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled today an appointed common pleas judge, elected to the unexpired term, cannot collect a pay increase until he received a governor's commission and takes his oath for the unexpired term.

McElroy told state Auditor James A. Rhodes that a judge serving by appointment and subsequently elected to the unexpired term serves under the appointment until qualified for the elective term.

Rhodes raised the question because a Wood County Common Pleas Judge, appointed to serve an unexpired term, was elected for the remainder of the term last November and sought to collect an increased salary from the date of his election. He did not qualify for the rest of the term until Dec. 9.

In an opinion to Prosecutor John S. Peterson of Greene County, McElroy ruled that when a juvenile judge recommends establishment of a detention home, the county commissioners must provide the home within a convenient distance from the court.

East Middletown Area Suffers Power Failure

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Electric power was knocked out in East Middletown and large parts of western Warren County when a condenser fell across a 66,000-volt line Tuesday. The Middletown police radio and radio station WPFB were off the air 13 minutes and some areas had no power for 90 minutes. A spokesman for Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. said the mishap occurred while a crew was stringing cable.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — By an accident of history President Kennedy inherited the luxury of time, and he's using it.

Unlike his three predecessors in the White House he didn't have to cope with an immediate and overwhelming crisis when he took office.

Thus he had time to take care of his problems at home before having to plunge into the long-range crisis of our time—dealing with Russia.

Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower all had instant crises on their hands when they were sworn in.

Roosevelt had to tackle the depression, Truman had to bring World War II to a successful conclusion, Eisenhower had to settle the Korean War.

True, when Kennedy became president he faced a shambles in the Congo and serious trouble in Laos. He still does.

But there was no instant and gigantic problem in front of him, as there was for the others.

DiSalle Hopeful, Skeptical About Proposed Tax Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle expressed hope and skepticism in equal measure Tuesday that a proposed all-embracing two-year tax study might show the way to solution of Ohio's fiscal needs.

But he indicated full cooperation if the legislature authorizes it.

"We've been through these studies before," the governor said, "with little attention paid to the results. This new study might work if it is not a shell game with everybody trying to shove the pea off on someone else."

DiSalle commented after a conference with a half-dozen men representing Ohio banking, business, labor, educational, agricultural, and municipal interests.

The proposal is that the study be made by a 17-member commission which would have a one-vote Republican edge. To this, the governor dissented.

He said he feels the study would receive a much wider acceptance if there were an even division. Eleven members would be appointed by DiSalle.

O. E. Anderson of the Ohio Bankers Association, among those who expressed their hopes for a worthwhile study, said it should be "broad and deep enough to take in state and local needs and spending in the light of the state's economy."

Anderson urged that persons of stature respected for their objective approach to public matters be named to the commission.

Elmer Cope, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO, told the governor it was not the group's wish to promote any specific form of taxation, but rather to formulate recommendations and alternate suggestions as to how the needs of the state might be met.

Finance Director James H. Maloon, one of the conferees, expressed doubt that the $200,000 suggested for the study would be sufficient, but the group agreed that some private aid might be expected.

DiSalle commented on the overall study that "too often there has been a tendency to tailor state programs to available revenues. What we need is for a group of responsible citizens to study the situation and report 'This is what the state needs, and here are some of the ways the job can be done.'"

Sen. Ross Pepple, R - Allen, stated that in his opinion it would be a colossal mistake for the legislature to authorize a $200,000 appropriation to create a commission. Such commissions, he said, invariably come up with fantastic spending programs without regard to cost or needs.

By James Marlow

Thus, he was able, as a new man, to take his time in preparing to talk with the Russians on disarmament.

And any immediate problem of a conference with Premier Khrushchev was out of the question—and Khrushchev knew it—until he had time to get his thinking and his house in order.

The trip arranged Tuesday—for the American ambassador in Moscow to fly to Siberia to bring a goodwill message from Kennedy to Khrushchev—was part of the time Kennedy still has on his side.

Meanwhile he is using every minute of his time to get a host of domestic problems out of the way before Khrushchev needs all his attention.

This explains the rapid-fire volley of messages and programs with which he has been bombarding Congress.

Just giving the messages and programs is only the preliminary. Now, with gathering speed, Congress will be working on Kennedy's proposals.

He'll need more time for the necessary in-fighting — putting pressure on individual members of Congress—to vote his way.

This inheritance of times gives him the chance to get the bulk of his first year's work—the work that has to be done at home—before moving into the foreign field in person.

It is notable that neither Kennedy nor his secretary of state, Dean Rusk, has yet made any profound announcements on foreign affairs.

The big statements in that field will come later, as the need for his fullest attention to Congress begins to recede.

He cannot, of course, avoid being haunted by the possibility of a Communist victory in Laos or some sudden development which would prove a disaster for the West in the Congo.

But at the moment he seems to be trying to handle those problems—through his aides—with one hand while he devotes his major attention to the immediate domestic tasks.

Georgia Legislature OKs Fishing on Sunday

ATLANTA (AP) — The Georgia Legislature has passed a bill to legalize fishing on Sundays after Sen. Erwin Owens of Dahlonega said Sunday was the "only day I have to relax and go fishing with my kids."

In addition, Owens said he wanted the bill adopted because many tourists going through Georgia on Sundays "stop to eat at picnic tables beside a stream, throw out a hook, and a sheriff comes along and fines them $25."

Ohio River Continues To Fall after Flood

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio River continued a slow fall at Cincinnati today after reaching a two-year high of 53.2 feet. The river would drop back to 52-foot flood stage today and be at 50.5 Thursday, the Weather Bureau predicted. Little damage was reported from the high water.

Views on Television - Radio

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The balding little man with the hangover tummy enters the picture at the crucial moment—a second's delay might bring mayhem—and gleefully announces, "You're on television!"

The victim, a person who has been goaded to a point just short of murder, begins behaving like an embarrassed bridegroom.

This is another climax in the most extended practical joke on record: "Candid Camera."

Great tribute belongs to the suffering American public—the public that plays foil in these Sunday shenanigans—rather than to Allen Funt, the inventor and proprietor. It's amazing that week after week so many people should be fooled and take it in good spirit. If the rest of the world needs evidence that Americans are patient and cooperative—even eager to get along with the most difficult people extant—they need only look at a few of the shows.

Placing people in trying circumstances without their knowing that the whole thing is supposed to be a gag calls for a great deal of faith and luck. Sometimes the circumstances are the quintessence of humor, and sometimes they border on the sadistic. The long odds are that somewhere along the line Funt and his funny men are going to run out of luck and come face to face with an unstable character who will blow up before anyone can stop him. Telling this kind of squirrel he's on TV might start more shooting than could be seen in a month of "Untouchables."

'BIG O' EXAMINED FOR 'BIG A'—Oscar Robertson, the "Big O" of basketball, is examined in Cincinnati by an Army recruiting aide as the first step of a 6-month active duty program starting this spring. Seventh Ohio College Gets Tourney Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stuebenville has become the seventh Ohio college team to gain a berth in a postseason national basketball tournament—the Barons heading for the NAIA classic at Kansas City.

The Ohio River school edged Ashland 61-60 in the final round of the NAIA District 22 playoff at Defiance Tuesday night.

The Barons, 16-10 for the season, took the lead for good with 3:20 remaining on a jump shot by Chuck Zerger. The score had been tied 11 times and the lead changed hands on 12 occasions.

Stuebenville placed two men on the all-tournament team — Ron Saxe and Bill Rahuba, who topped the scoring Tuesday night with 18 points. Ashland also put two on the select quintet—Boze Johnson and Larry Augler. Defiance's Ray Etzler was the fifth member.

An eighth Ohio school may get aboard the tournament train. The NCAA announced that the winner of Saturday's Xavier-Loyola of Chicago game will receive the at-large spot in the Mid-East Regional tournament at Louisville. If the Musketeers claim the spot it will mean three Ohio teams will square off in that NCAA playoff. Ohio State and Ohio University already have won berths. A fourth Buckeye school—cross-town Xavier rival, Cincinnati—plays in the Midwest Regional.

Wittenberg and Youngstown will take part in the NCAA college division tournament, colliding at Crawfordsville, Ind., Friday night.

Knicks Finally End Their Loss Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Knickerbockers, who long ago clinched the cellar spot in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association, at least won't end the season on a long losing streak.

Until Tuesday night, the Knicks, who are 32½ games out of first place and 16½ behind their nearest opponents, were riding a nine-game losing streak with just four games to play.

They snapped out of it with a 114-113 victory over the Syracuse Nationals in Madison Square Garden. The triumph was a squeaker, for the Nets threatened to pull it out in the final seconds.

In other action, the Boston Celtics defeated the Cincinnati Royals, 124-121, and the St. Louis Hawks edged the Los Angeles Lakers, 137-136, in double overtime.

Pensacola Open Champs on Hand

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) —The $20,000 Pensacola Open golf tournament starts Thursday with all five of the previous winners on hand.

Last year's champion, Arnold Palmer, turned in an eight-under-par 64 practice round. The earlier Pensacola winners are Don Fairfield, Art Wall Jr., Doug Ford and Paul Harney.

Of the nine winners on the PGA circuit this year, only Billy Maxwell is missing. He is playing on the Caribbean tour. Palmer has won three of the nine 1961 tournaments.

Four Masters champions, Palmer, Wall, Ford and Cary Middlecoff, are seeking the title here. The field of 150 also includes five PGA titlists, Chandler Harper, Bob Rosburg, Lionel Hebert, Dow Finsterwald and Ford.

The 72-hole tournament will be played over the Pensacola Country Club course.

A total of 17,702 standardbreds participated in 39,882 harness races during 1960, reports the U. S. Trotting Assn.

Schoendienst Handed $25,000 Contract by Cardinal Boss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Aging Red Schoendienst, threatened with the end of a major league career spanning 16 seasons and a bout with tuberculosis, has been pronounced the "youngest-acting guy" on the St. Louis Cardinals and rewarded with a $25,000 contract.

The 38-year-old switch-hitter went at top speed in the Cards' intrasquad game Tuesday, cracking two singles, stealing a base, scoring one run and making a stop with the skill he used to flash as one of the National League's greatest second basemen.

Schoendienst, who had been working without a contract after getting his release from the Milwaukee Braves, accepted terms following the workout. General Manager Bing Devine said, "This is our break, not Red's. He has been most impressive and should help us tremendously."

Manager Solly Hemus concurred, calling the veteran "the youngest-looking, youngest-acting guy on the squad. My one concern was Red's health," said the Redbird skipper, "but no man could be ill and work the way he has the last two weeks."

Milwaukee's reluctant Wes Covington finally ended his holdout siege by signing after the club gave the 29-year-old outfielder an ultimatum to sign or go through with his threat to sit out the season.

Elsewhere, a rash of injuries broke out. The San Francisco Giants' Willie Mays escaped serious damage when a vicious foul spun off his left foot in batting practice. He suffered a bruised instep.

Rocky Nelson, first baseman for the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, was hit in the face by a pitched ball, but was not seriously injured. Chicago White Sox rookie catcher Camilo Carreon split an index finger on his right hand when he was struck by a foul.

The Cards reported that ailing shortstop Julio Gotay still has blurred vision from an eye inflammation. Outfielder Al Pilarcik, obtained from Baltimore in a trade, told the Kansas City A's he's retiring because of illness in his family.

The A's continued to get solid hitting performances from rookie outfielder Jay Hankins, who had two doubles and a single in an intrasquad test and is 8-for-19. Infielder Lou Klimchok slammed a double and single and now is 8-for-14.

Right-hander Don Drysdale, erratic last season with a 15-14 record, pitched four sharp innings in a Los Angeles workout. He gave up only one hit and two earned runs—on a homer by Tommy Davis—struck out four and walked only one.

Joe Hicks had a homer and double in Washington's intrasquad contest. Roy Sievers connected for a pair of doubles in the White Sox' practice session. Bob Skinner and Bob Oldis each had three hits at the Pirates' camp. Gus Bell sparked the Cincinnati workout with a two-run homer.

Ward's Unit Takes High Team Scores

Ward's Market walked away with team honors in Ladies Tuesday Night bowling at Circle D. The squad came through with a 782 single and 2,236 series.

On down the line it was Cook's Insurance with a 708 single and 2,042 series, followed by Benny's Restaurant with a 698 and 2,028.

Gloria Simson's 183 was individual high single, followed by Mary Skinner's 181 and Mary Noble's 176. Mrs. Noble had the best series on a 481, with Mrs. Simson netting 480 and Penny Dietrich a 451.

Zora Weiler had an accurate throw by turning in a 3-7-10 split.

NIT Lineup Is Completed

Play Slated To Start In New York March 16

NEW YORK (AP)—The field for the 1961 National Invitation Tournament, finally completed Tuesday, doesn't include even one of the nation's top ten college basketball teams. But there's every indication that the competition among 12 teams should be very close.

In setting up the pairings, the selection committee didn't attempt to rank the four seeded teams. Instead it listed them in roughly alphabetical order without giving an explanation why these four were selected over the other eight.

The seeded teams are Dayton (19-7), Memphis State (20-2), Niagara (16-4) and either Colorado State University (17-7) or Utah (20-6). The last entry is to be determined Saturday when Colorado State and Utah play off for the Skyline Conference championship. The winner will go into the National Collegiate NCAA Tournament and the loser to the NIT.

Dayton and the Utah-Colo. State winner were placed in one bracket and Memphis State and Niagara in the other. The seeded teams will go directly into the quarter-final round.

The schedule:
Thursday night, March 16 — first round: St. Louis vs. Miami of Florida (19-6); Holy Cross (18-4) vs. Detroit (18-8).

Saturday afternoon, March 18 — first round: Temple (19-6) vs. Army (17-6); DePaul (17-7) vs. Providence (20-5).

Saturday night, March 18 — quarterfinals: Colorado State U. or Utah vs. St. Louis-Miami winner; Memphis State vs. Holy Cross-Detroit winner.

Tuesday night, March 21 — quarter-finals: Dayton vs. Temple-Army winner; Niagara vs. DePaul-Providence winner.

Thursday night, March 23 — semifinals.

Saturday afternoon, March 25 — final and consolation game.

Zeller Handed Honors At Miami Cage Affair

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Dave Zeller, 6-foot senior from Medway, won most of the honors at the annual dinner for Miami University's basketball team Tuesday night, including the vote of teammates as the Redskins' most valuable player. He also was chosen the team's most efficient player for the second straight year and wound up best free throw shooter.

Bucks Like Various Honors, But Prefer NCAA Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Larry Siegfried, the Ohio State captain from Shelby, likes to mix philosophy and basketball.

The brilliant Buckeye floor leader had a few choice words when he advised Tuesday that unbeaten Ohio State had been acclaimed the nation's best team in the final Associated Press poll.

"It's an honor that we'd enjoy more after the season," Siegfried said with a note of seriousness.

"After all," he continued, "we have enough honors to defend already. Sure it's nice getting our guys named to All-America teams."

"But what we want most is that second NCAA title. We really don't have the time to think about honors. Being named No. 1 in the country won't mean very much if someone beats us down in Louisville."

Siegfried, of course, was referring to Ohio State's scheduled appearance in the Kentucky city March 17 when the Buckeyes start firing for keeps in the Mid-East Regional.

Coach Fred Taylor's crew has collected 23 straight victories for the trophy room this season. Five more at the tail end of last season gives the Bucks a string of 28 straight, longest winning skein in the nation.

Ohio already has the Big Ten title in hand but Taylor still views the situation with apprehension.

"I'm real pleased they picked us for No. 1," Taylor said, "but right now beating Illinois Saturday in the Big Ten windup is our prime concern."

If the Bucks get by the Illini at Champaign, they'll become the first Western Conference quintet to notch a perfect season in league warfare in almost 20 years.

Ohio State has its sights on another goal—the first major college unbeaten season since North Carolina accomplished the feat in 1957.

There's a lot riding on every game and the amiable Taylor explains it this way:

"Naturally it's nice to be named the best in the country but it would be nice to get that kind of recognition at the end of the season."

"I have a real good feeling about the team. We have had some squeakers but these kids have worked hard and deserve all the honors they get."

Elks Downed In Tourney At Armory

Scioto Elks was upset, 63-60, last night in the National Guard tournament by the National Guard team.

A second game of the evening saw Orient get past McFarland Contractors, 60-58.

Scioto, playing without some of its starters, was ahead in the third quarter, 50-46, but fell behind following an ONG onslaught.

Dave Myers' 21 points played a big part in the win as did 12 by Don Rowland and 10 by Roger McConnell.

BILL and Charlie Johnson had 18 points each for the Elks and Jake Bailey had 13.

The lead changed hands numerous times in the Orient - McFarland's game before Orient pulled it out. Mike Brown paced the winners with 15 points, followed by Martin Barr with 12 and Delbert Neff 11.

Cecil Galloway was the top scorer for McFarland's with 18 points. Charles Galloway hit for 10.

The double elimination tournament continues Thursday with two games. Dick's Hardware meets Blue Ribbon at 7 p.m. and ONG takes on Michael's Pizza at 8:30.

Two games Friday list Scioto Elks vs Orient at 7 p.m. and winner of the Dick's -Blue Ribbon test vs loser of the ONG-Michael's game.

County Ag Society Sued For Death of Trotters

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Jerry Ross of Cortland filed suit for $75,425 Tuesday against the Trumbull County Agricultural Society and the County Commissioners.

He claims a stable fire at the fairgrounds last December destroyed seven trotting horses worth $70,000 and $5,425 worth of stable equipment, belonging to him. He charges negligence in that faulty wiring caused the fire.

Youth Baseball Group Gets Nod For New Fields

Approval for the construction of two new baseball diamonds at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds was granted last night to the Circleville Youth Baseball program.

The go-ahead for the diamonds was given by the Pickaway County Agricultural Society. Fair Secretary William Cook informed officers and directors of the Youth Baseball Program of the decision during a meeting last night at the Coliseum.

Current plans call for the diamonds to be erected in the center of the harness track in the area where the football field is now located. Another football field probably will be located in a nearby area.

Officers and directors of the youth group are slated to visit the Fairgrounds area at 5 p.m. Sunday to make final pre-construction plans. The building project is supposed to get under way as soon as weather permits.

ROY PARMER, president of the baseball group, said the diamonds are urgently needed for the Kiwanis - sponsored recreation program here. He said there is a possibility lights will be added at one of the diamonds in the future.

Carl Radcliff Jr., representing the American Legion, was a guest at the meeting. He said the local Hall - Adkins Post was interested in sponsoring a team in the Little League. His offer was immediately accepted by the baseball group.

J. I. Smith III, program secretary, said the Legion offer now brings to five the number of sponsors for new teams obtained for the coming season. The others are Circleville Savings Bank, L. M. Butch Jewelers, Bingham Drugs and the Third National Bank.

Smith said a total of 24 teams are anticipated for the 1961 season.

Ralph Elick, representing the Tarlton Athletic Club, also was present. He said Tarlton is willing to sponsor either one or two teams in the 8-12-year-old group. The board also accepted this offer, with further details concerning the entries to be worked out later.

Officers and directors voted that the entry fee for outside teams will be $25, plus the cost of necessary insurance for players.

PRESIDENT Parmer emphasized that an important meeting for all old and prospective new team managers will be held March 28 at the Coliseum. He urged all interested persons to attend.

Parmer stressed the point that additional managers will be needed. He said success of the program depends in great part on the availability of men to lead the increased number of teams here this year.

Other business included plans to obtain a new program director for the summer to succeed CHS football coach Carl Benhase who will not be available for the summer job. Several possible successors were named. Each will be contacted.

Officers and directors attending the meeting were Parmer, Smith, Lee Smith, Al Gabriel, Blenn Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Dade, Mrs. Ruth Iery and Paul Smallwood.

One of the nation's largest bowling establishments is at Edison, N. J. It includes 112 alleys.

Minnesota Twins May Make Top Bid for First Division

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor
ORLANDO, Fla. — There weren't too many capital gains for Cookie Lavagetto in Washington until last year, when his Senators finished fifth, but this is a new year, a new location and the best Washington team since 1942 and Cookie and the rest of the Minnesota Twins look for considerable gain in the standings.

The club, now the Minnesota Twins, which has brought baseball to the "Upper Midwest" as the roster indicates, is virtually the same which wound up fifth last year after spending most of the time the last 15 years deep in the second division.

The transfer to Minneapolis St. Paul, which came about last October, has been a pleasant one, for club officials and Cookie tell you that Gopher fans have taken to the team, that the ticket sale is three times what it was in Washington and that some fans as far away as Williston, N. D., some 650 miles from the Twin Cities, have bought season tickets.

Additionally, the club will be playing in one of the finest of all baseball stadiums, the Metropolitan Stadium, which is at nearby Bloomington, Minn., and now seats 30,643 but which will have 40,000 seats by Sept. 8, when the double-decking is finished.

LaVagetto, now a somebody in big league managing because he has what appears to be a respectable team, is optimistic about the Twins. Cookie says that "We have virtually the same ball club and since most of our new men are in their third year we should be improved over last season."

Pitching could be the real key and, as Cookie says, "our pitching is in between. If some of our young boys come through we could be all set."

"Our bench," continued the Twins' manager, "could be strengthened" and "we're trying to eliminate some of last year's problems which forced us to maneuver our infield when we needed a pinch-hitter."

The club has good power in Harmon Killebrew, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison, and should be improved with the regular play of catcher Earl Battey, infielder Billy Gardner and outfielder Lenny Green. The team should get good pitching from Camillo Pascual, Pedro Ramos and Chuck Stobbs, with Don Lee and John Kralick helping out.

LaVagetto looks for help this year from an untired newcomer, southpaw Gerry Arrigo, who now has a cast on his leg following an injury in camp, and Paul Giel, the old Minnesota footballer who was with the Pirates and Salt Lake City last year.

Ted Sadowski, who came up late last season from Charlotte, and two other pitchers listed on the minor league rosters, Joe Bonikowski, whowon 14 for Wilson, and Joel Kiger, an 18-game winner for Erie, look promising.

LaVagetto feels that Killebrew, who hits those tape measure homers, will improve at first base, where he was transferred last year, and that such players as Dan Dobbek, who has been working at third along with his outfield post, should improve because of the experience he gained last season.

Bob Allison, the rookie star of 1959, also has been working at first base, where he played in the Cuban League, to give the club more versatility.

Ron Henry, up from Louisville, is a third catcher to go with Battey and Hal Naragon, and in the infield to join Reno Bertoia, Billy Conzolo, Billy Gardner and Killebrew is Don Mincher, who had a fine year at Charleston.

Ed Lopat, former Yankee hero, has joined the club as a coach and he should help the pitchers.

TIP ON THE TWINS

Should be owners' best team since war years; solid pitchers in Pascual and Ramos, plenty of home run power, with bench strength needed. Could be a candidate for the first division in a new town and new stadium.

7 Vacancies Remain for NCAA Tourney

Loyola Crew Is Named After Winning West Coast Championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Loyola of Los Angeles, newly crowned champ of the West Coast Athletic Conference, has made it to the National Collegiate basketball championships for first time, leaving the NCAA with seven vacancies for its far-flung 24-team tournament opening next Tuesday.

Loyola, 19-6 this season, clinched the WCAC title Tuesday night with an 82-64 victory over Pepperdine that really wasn't needed. A few minutes before, Santa Clara had spilled San Francisco 51-39, eliminating the only team left with a chance to catch Loyola.

The Lions from Loyola, representatives of a conference that sent the San Francisco Dons on to back-to-back NCAA titles with All-America Bill Russell in 1955 and 1956, will play the Skyline Conference champs in their first tournament game in the Far West regional at Portland, Ore., March 17. The Skyline berth will be decided Saturday night in a play-off at Provo, Utah, between co-champs Utah and Colorado State.

That's the play-off where even the loser wins. While the winner goes to the NCAA, the loser goes to the National Invitation Tournament, which completed its 12-team lineup Tuesday with the addition of St. Louis, No. 3 team in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Ed Berto, Loyola's ace, scored 27 points in the Lions' wrap-up victory Tuesday night, the first undisputed WCAC championship for the Los Angeles school. Loyola tied with Santa Clara for the conference title last year but lost the NCAA berth in a play-off with the Broncos.

Filling of the WCAC berth left four conference berths and three at-large vacancies in the NCAA lineup. The Ohio Valley Conference will finally unwind its knot tonight at Louisville, with Morehead playing Western Kentucky for the right to enter the NCAA. Western, Morehead, and Eastern Kentucky finished in a three-way tie for the conference title. Morehead eliminated Eastern in the first round of the play-off Monday night.

Kentucky and Vanderbilt meet Thursday in a play-off for the Southeastern Conference berth. Saturday, in addition to the Utah-Colorado State game in the Skyline, New Mexico State and Arizona State U. will play at Tempe, Ariz., to determine the Border Conference representative, and the winner of the Xavier of Ohio-Chicago Loyola game at Chicago Stadium will get an at-large berth against the Ohio Valley Conference winner in the NCAA Midwest preliminaries at Louisville March 14.

The two remaining at-large berths in the Far West regional will be picked after a telephone poll Sunday morning, with Oregon State, Portland, Oregon and Seattle reported to be the leading contenders.

While the big boys were settling their disputes Tuesday night, the 32-team field for the NAIA small-college tournament in Kansas City in play-offs were Whitworth (Wash.), St. Norbert (Wis.), Missouri Valley, Carson-Newman, Anderson (Ind.), Steubenville (Ohio) Simpson (Iowa), Gustavus Adolphus, Emporia State (Kan.), and Linfield (Ore.).

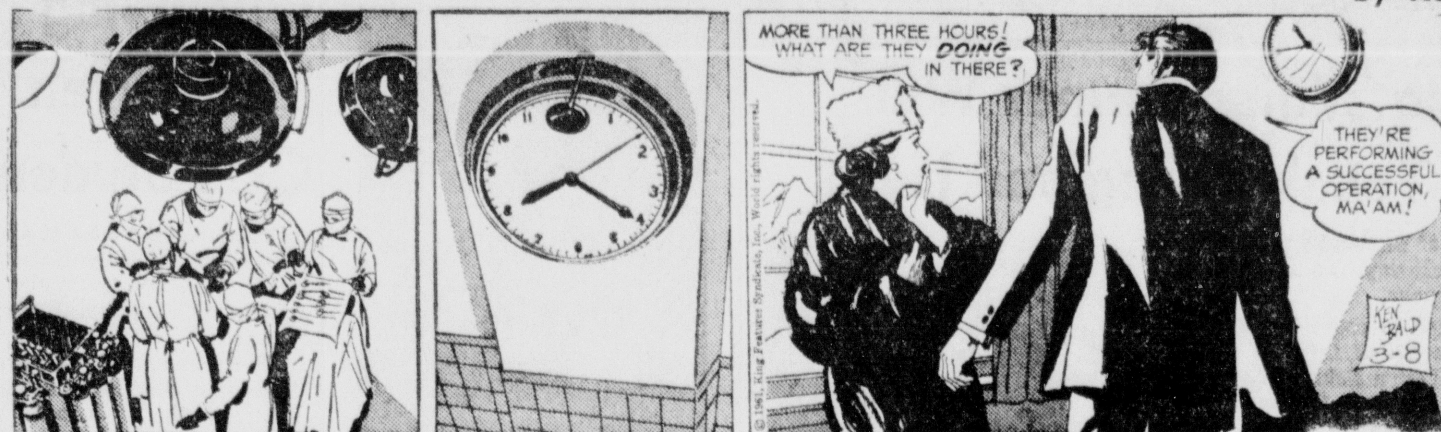

Top Series Score Goes to Dietrich

A 608 series by Bill Dietrich on games of 189, 195 and 224 was the high mark in Early Monday bowling here.

Other high series were Gordy Fraser 557, Hank Miga 553, John Greenwald and Don Valentine 548, Fiske O'Hara 546, Bob Moon 539.

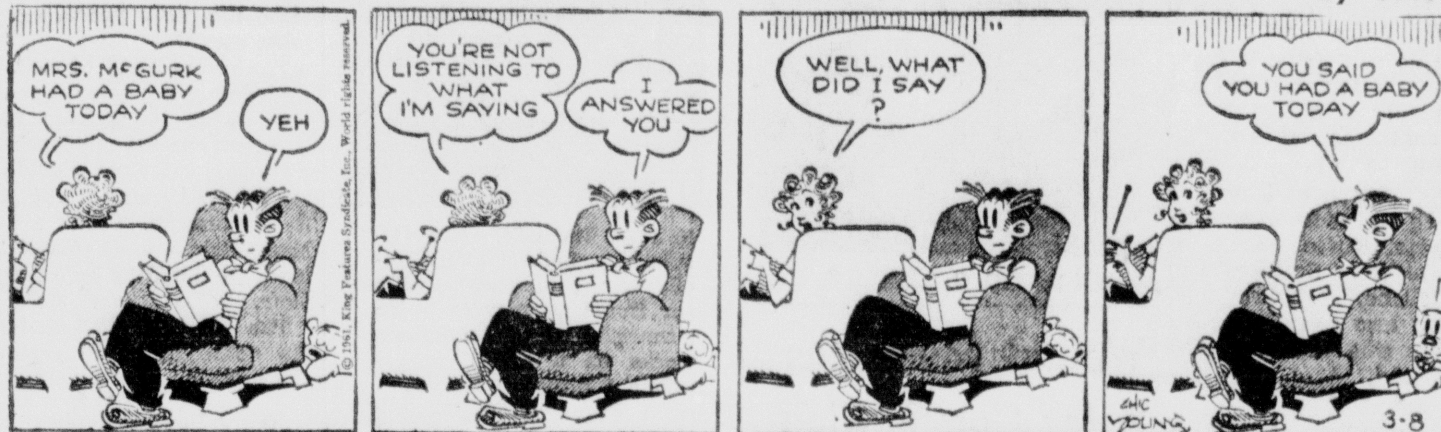

Moore's Store had a 1,004 single and a 2,835 series. Ramey Plasters also had 2,835 for the set.

Ohio Medical Group Backs Polio Vaccine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Medical Association today urged all county medical societies to launch Salk polio immunization programs immediately.

Association President Dr. Edwin H. Artman said, "since the Salk vaccine has been proved to be effective and since there are still many segments of the population not immunized against poliomyelitis, every effort should be made to encourage the general public to take advantage of the Salk vaccine without delay."

ONE TOUCH ON VENUS?—The diagram illustrates the launching (1) of the Soviet rocket toward Venus (2) from the seven-ton satellite launched into Earth orbit a week before. The launching more than balances the outer space score, even though the U.S. had launched 33 satellites to the Soviet's 11, and two solar probes to the Soviet's one. The Soviet also has announced striking moon with a lunar probe.
